Excerpt: . or impossible) formed by the three links and the line of centres shall be equal to zero. Professor Sylvester states that Roberts two cases of inverse conical 3-bar motion are special cases of unicursal 3-bar motion. Solution by Samuel Roberts, M.A. Professor Cayley has shown Mathematical Society s Proceedings, Vol. IV., pp. 109, 110) that the condition specified in the question is sufficient, and notices the cases of reduction of order. To show the necessity of the condition, I consider that in general the curves described by points rigidly connected with the traversing bar, have a one-to-one correspondence, and have therefore the same deficiency. We may therefore regard a point on the traversing bar as describing the locus, and since the extremities of the links which rotate describe exceptional loci, we will suppose the describing point different from these. The locus described is...
