Electrical News, 1920, Vol. 29: Generation, Transmission and Application of Electricity (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By W R Carr

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Electrical News, 1920, Vol. 29: Generation, Transmission and Application of Electricity The final solution of this traction-problem will not be found in any franchise granted by the city council, no matter what its terms may be. The experience of the majority of the other states of the Union clearly points to the one logical thing to do, and that is to place traction companies under the control Of a state public utilities commission. Minnesota already has a railway and warehouse commission that could be given enlarged powers to supervise the traction companies of the state. The records of our neighbor state, Wisconsin, and many Others who have followed this plan, proves conclusively that this method of handling public utilities is far superior to that of municipal control. The situation in Minnesota, with Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth served by one traction corporation, makes it especially desirable to utilize this state commission plan. This will do away with all local franchise granted by city councils and will give the greatest assurance for adequate service. The city councils lay their...
