Excerpt from Combined Monthly Report, Branch of Research, July 1926: Forest Experiment Station, Dendrology, Forest Products, Forest Economics, Grazing Research But what is research? The achievement of the super-man? The sport of kings? The privilege of the exalted few? It is all of these and more super-men may exhaust themselves in its pursuit, a king might pawn his crown to taste its joys, and the highest of earth may be made rich by its rewards, but it is like faith and love, which men can not be exhausted by the greatest yet may be partaken of by the humblest, provided they are pure in heart. There are no limitations as to age, wealth or social position, yet the restrictions are severe enough to keep out the unworthy.
