As a rule they are written from the point of view of the larger town and city schools. This course has been prepared with the needs of the smaller schools, especially of those in rural communities, kept steadily in view. While emphasizing teaching, it deals with the duties and problems of Sunday-school workers in general. It treats in simple language such activities and methods as should have a place in any school, however small. Without using pedagogical terms, it bases its conclusions on modern educational principles. Moreover, it constantly lays stress upon definite spiritual results in conversion and character-building. This first course of study on Sunday-School Teaching and Management, will be followed by others on Getting Acquainted with the Bible and on Winning Lives for Christ. The authors have had exceptional equipment for...
