ARGUMENTATION IN MULTI-AGENT SYSTEMS: 4TH INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP, ARGMAS 2007, HONOLULU, HI, USA, MAY 15, 2007, REVISED SELECTED AND INVITED PAPERS

Springer. Paperback. Condition: New. 235 pages. Dimensions: 9.2in. x 6.1in. x 0.6in. This volume presents the latest developments in the growing area of research at the interface of argumentation theory and multiagent systems. This area has grown tremendously with many papers appearing in the recent special issue of the Artificial Intelligence Journal on Argumentation and the special issue of IEEE Intelligent Systems on Argumentation Technologies. Over the last few years, argumentation has been gaining increasing importance in multiagent systems, mainly as a vehicle for facilitating rational interaction (i. e., interaction which involves the giving and receiving of reasons). This is because argumentation provides tools for designing, implementing, and analyzing sophisticated forms of interaction among rational agents. Argumentation has made a solid contribution to the practice of multiagent dialogues. Application domains include: legal disputes, business negotiation, labor disputes, team formation, scientific inquiry, deliberative democracy, ontology reconciliation, risk analysis, scheduling, and logistics. A single agent may also use argumentation techniques to perform individual reasoning because it needs to make decisions under complex preferences policies, in a highly dynamic environment. Most papers in this volume appeared in the proceedings of the 4th International Workshop on Argumentation in Multiagent Systems (ArgMAS 2007), which took place in Honolulu, USA, in conjunction with the International Joint Conference on Autonomous Agents and Multiagent Systems (AAMAS). This continues the success of the ArgMAS workshop series, which took place in tandem with AAMAS in New York in 2004, Utrecht in 2005, and Hakodate in 2006. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
