The Gospel of John is frequently recommended to the new Christians due to the simple language that is used to establish that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and the Savior of man. Although much of the Gospel can be understood by those who are being initiated in the Christian faith, the teachings are profound and challenge the minds of the students mature. John presents complex doctrine and logic in simple language. They often fail to one hand, the Gospel of John in a wealth theological limited, and studying the life of Christ in the Synoptic Gospels. However, the fourth Gospel and the Synoptics differ greatly in their presentation of the life of Christ, therefore, it is necessary also a study of the Gospel of John. The Synoptic Gospels focus on the humanity of Jesus and his miraculous activities in order to answer questions about whether he was the Messiah of God. The Gospel of John begins with the declared John s Gospel is based on a core of historical material, but the purpose of the author was not present a chronology of the life of Christ. There are numerous differences between the historical framework of John and the Synoptics. Although have not been resolved many of these differences, the value of the fourth Gospel has not weakened. An evaluation of the Gospel must be based on the purpose of the author. He wrote to show that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, so that those who read their writings can believe and that they may have life in his name (Jn. 20:31). Under the direction of the Holy Spirit, the author actually achieving its purpose. The Epistles of...
