Excerpt from Annual Reports, 1911- 12 The class in Apologetics conducted by Professor Ross, was attended by fourteen students. The lectures included: An inquiry into the causes of the Unbelief of our time; A critical examination of recent speculations concerning The Person and Work of Christ; A consideration of the question Is a special Revelation necessary? A brief discussion of Socialism and the Teaching of Jesus. Several chapters of Book III in Bruce s Apologetics were made a subject of study. Daily viva voce examinations were held. Two essays on prescribed subjects were written and examined. The diligence of the class was most commendable.
