Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | The manufacturing companies, now a days are looking for the solution to problems of global warming and environment degradation which arise from increased manufacturing activities. The researchers have proposed an idea of sustainable manufacturing as the solution to the above said problems. The objective of sustainable manufacturing is the creation of manufactured products through processes that are non-polluting, conserve energy and natural resources, and are economically sound and safe for employees, communities, and consumers. The objective of sustainable manufacturing can only be achieved if there is a system that is able to measure sustainability of a manufacturing process or a product. An energy intensive manufacturing process is a good candidate for the study of sustainability. Die-casting is one such process. Therefore, the present research deals with determination of Sustainability of a die casting part at its design stage. | Format: Paperback | Language/Sprache: english | 76 pp.
