A Road to Precise Prosthesis

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | A Road to Precise Prosthesis | Success in oral rehabilitation is dependent in part, on the accurate registration of those structures that constitute the basis for prosthesis support. The accurate transfer of implant or abutment position to the definitive cast is a determining factor for successful passively fitting implant restoration, and is important for preventing prosthetic complications. An understanding of biomechanics of implant Prosthodontics necessitates the fabrication of passively fitting prosthesis. As implantology...
