Nothing could exceed this gentleman s kindness; and nothing could have been more welcome to us poor famished travellers than the good breakfast which was speedily placed before us. One of the luxuries which perhaps we enjoyed the most was the breeze wafted by the punkah, a contrivance which I wonder is not more frequently used in these hot climates; for the heat is at least as severe as it is in China and Japan. Mr. Campbell told me, much to my astonishment, that he and another East Indian were the only people who have introduced punkahs into their houses here. At last, after much delay, the whole of our party having arrived and breakfasted, horses and carriages were brought out to take us on our way. While we were waiting,...
