Since the 1990s, efforts to improve government have focused on improving the management of existing departments and agencies, with an emphasis on clarifying missions and aligning program goals and objectives with an 11 entity's mission. Under the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA) of 1993, federal agencies must (1) complete strategic plans in which they define their missions, establish results-oriented goals, and identify the strategies that will be needed to achieve those goals; (2) measure performance toward the achievement of the goals in an annual performance plan; and (3) report annually on their progress in 12 program performance reports. On the basis of specific statutory requirements, departments and agencies are to implement programs to support their missions and goals. In addition, federal laws have focused on improving the efficiency and effectiveness of agencies business operations by increasing their financial accountability and technical 13 capabilities. In particular, the Chief Financial Officers Act of 1990 requires federal agencies to develop and maintain integrated accounting and financial..
