Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The German Pharmac ia During the use of the first edition of the Pharmacop a Germanica it became evident, that it gradually ceased to accomplish its object. Recognizing this fact and following a suggestion of the Imperial Chancellor, the Federal Council (Bundesrath), at its session of June 6, 1878, resolved that the work should be subjected to a revision. In pursuance of this resolution, a Commission was appointed, consisting of six Clinical Practitioners, six Physicians, six Pharmacologists, six Chemists, and six Pharmacists, together with two high Army Surgeons (Ober-Militararzte) and one Corps Staff-Apothecary (Corps-Stabsapotheker), the latter three appointed by the Royal Prussian Minister of War. To this Commission was committed the charge of revising and improving the Pharmacopoeia of 1872, in compliance with the resolution of the Federal Council. In order to procure for the Commission a preliminary guide, as a basis for accomplishing the work satisfactorily, the Imperial Chancellor requested the authorities of the German States to call the attention of the Medical and Pharmaceutical Bodies, and especially of prominent individual Medical Officers, Teachers in Universities, Clinical Practitioners and Pharmacists to the proposed Revision, in order to get their views regarding the deficiencies And shortcomings in the Pharmacop ia heretofore in use, and to ascertain what important additions had been made to the department of Therapeutics since its publication. The communications received in response to this inquiry, together with valuable information from other sources, were collated and arranged so as to form the basis for the subsequent labors of the Commission. Through the knowledge gained in this manner, it became evident that a large number of articles included in the first edition of the Pharmacop...
