Adventism in Tanzania in the Twentieth Century

By Elineema, Kangalu

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | A Curse or a Blessing? | Tanzania is a home of a beautiful scenery and abundant variety of wildlife of Serengeti Plain, and Ngorongoro crater. Africa's highest mountain, Kilimanjaro, rises 19340 feet in the north. Lake Victoria, which is the largest Lake in Africa, extends into northern Tanzania. Lake Tanganyika is the world's longest fresh water lake, and one of the deepest in the world, forms parts of the western border. About a third of Tanzania's population of 45,040,000 million is Christian and another third is Muslim whilst the remaining third holds to indigenous African beliefs. Muslims are predominantly localized along the coastline and the Zanzibar Islands where they constitute about 99% of the population. There are also a few pockets of people who are non-committal or who do not advocate any particular religious or spiritual belief. The Seventh-day Adventist Church was planted into Tanzania during the German era. Presently, there are over 600,000 adherents who have made great contributions to the development of the society. They have also played a significant role in shaping Tanzania's African culture. | Format: Paperback | Language/Sprache: english | 320 gr | 220x150x10 mm | 200 pp.

Reviews

Definitely one of the better books we have possibly read. We have read through and I am certain that I am going to go back and study it once again yet again in the foreseeable future. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

It becomes an amazing PDF that I actually have never gone through. This is for those who state that there had not been a worth reading through. You will like how the author created this PDF.
