By Peter Lund Simmonds

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Science and Commerce, Their Influence on Our Manufactures: A Series of Statistical Essays and Lectures, Describing the Progressive Discoveries of Science, the Advance of British Commerce, and the Conditions of Our Principal Manufactures in the Nineteenth Century Having been solicited to publish some lectures recently delivered on the Products of Commerce (forming the Travers Course) at the London Institution, have availed myself of the opportunity to reprint at the same time, in a compact volume, a few of the many articles I have contributed to the commercial literature of. The day on kindred topics during the last twenty years. It appeared to me that there was a want of a reliable handy-book of reference on our commerce and manufactures, and some observations which I made in the preface to my Commercial Dictionary of Trade Products, published fourteen years ago, are even more pertinent now. The present is essentially a practical, commercial, and industrial age - newspapers, lecturers, popular authors - all lend their efforts towards the diffusion of sound and useful knowledge among the masses; and the commercial...
