Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Reminiscences of His Capture and Escape From Prison and Adventures Within the Federal Lines I started out with the party, when one in particular begged me to take care of and not turn him over to any one else. I promised him I would. We had hardly gone one hundred yards, when, who should come galloping to my assistance, seeing I had too many for safety, (hadn t disarmed a single man) but Coley Jordan, whether by accident or intentionally I do not know. He remarked, Give me this fellow, I ll be responsible for him meaning the fellow to whom I had promised protection. I told him no, that I had promised to keep him in my charge and would do so. We soon re-floored the bridge and crossed the canal, then forded the river, and with twenty or more prisoners marched on to Leesburg. On nearing the town the prisoner referred to above asked permission to see his mother and sisters and tell them good-bye. I then for the first time learned that...
