And the people came and stood about his corpse. He treated the whole round world as his football, they said, indignantly, and he kicked it. The dead man opened one eye. But always toward the Goal, he said. There was a man once - a naturalist. And one day he found a lobster upon the sands of time. Society is a lobster; it crawls backward. How black it is! said the naturalist. And he put it in a little pan over the hot fire of his wit. It will turn red, he said. But it didn t. That was its shamelessness. There was a man once - a logician. He picked up a little clay ball upon the path of life. It is a perfect little globe, said his companions. But the logician saw that it was not mathematically round. And he took it in his hands and rubbed it between them, softly. Don t rub so hard, said his companions. And at last he desisted, and looked down upon it. It was not a bit rounder, only pushed out of shape. And he looked at his hands. They were very dirty. There was a man once - a poet. He went wandering through the streets of the city, and he met a disciple. Come out with me, said the poet, for a walk in the sand-dunes. And they went. But ere they had progressed many stages, said the disciple, There is nothing here but sand. To what...
