

Parenting Matters: Supporting Parents of Children Ages 0-8 (Paperback)

By and Families Youth Board on Children, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine

National Academies Press, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English. Brand New Book. Decades of research have demonstrated that the parent-child dyad and the environment of the familya which includes all primary caregiversa are at the foundation of childrena (TM)s well-being and healthy development. From birth, children are learning and rely on parents and the other caregivers in their lives to protect and care for them. The impact of parents may never be greater than during the earliest years of life, when a childa (TM)s brain is rapidly developing and when nearly all of her or his experiences are created and shaped by parents and the family environment. Parents help children build and refine their knowledge and skills, charting a trajectory for their health and well-being during childhood and beyond. The experience of parenting also impacts parents themselves. For instance, parenting can enrich and give focus to parentsa (TM) lives; generate stress or calm; and create any number of emotions, including feelings of happiness, sadness, fulfillment, and anger. Parenting of young children today takes place in the context of significant ongoing developments. These include: a rapidly growing body of science on early childhood, increases in funding for...
