Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Is there a Creator God or did everything evolve from a speck of dust? What started the Big Bang and the expansion of the cosmos? How did life evolve from non-life? Can natural processes write complicated genome codes and design Fibonacci sequences? If you find yourself asking any of these questions, you should be interested in this work. Unlike other theories that precede it, Ex-Nilo presents scientific explanations for how God brought something out of nothing through the use of modern scientific discoveries and unraveling the deeper meaning of the Hebrew words in the first three verses of Genesis. The results of this combination of analysis is an astounding watershed moment. For if God is who He says He is and created as He said He did, then surely He would have created the scientific laws to support His creation. Only now in the 21st century do we have enough science to understand what God told us in Genesis thousands of years ago. If you are open-minded and sincerely searching for answers, you will find this work inspiring; If you are a believer, this work will help your unbelief; If you are a skeptic or a die-hard evolutionist - probably anything short of God descending from heaven and appearing before your very eyes will impact anything you believe - but at least this work will make you uncomfortable. Regardless of which category you fall into, this work will prove to be thought-provoking, as well as challenging.
