Excerpt: . . . 3. Maor Offe ndingroese is, tbh Curret-Barriers Enst to Pract ice, Conmerci The Task Force identified those aspects of the current process which are most responsible for the barriers between the defense and commercial industrial base and result in separate plants and organizations being created. It is noted that although much burdensome legislation and many restrictive regulations have been revised or rescinded, the Task Force judgment is that the changes are not always being pursued in spirit or in reality. The most inmortant single intrusive element of the current process is the cost-based contracting system. It triggers many problems: Imposition of an array of unique reporting and oversight systems which are incompatible with commercially competitive enterprises. Negotiation of prices based on costs, using detailed cost or pricing data, rather than prices based on value to the government. The requirement to provide and certify cost or pricing data. Unique cost..
