Farmers have found it more and more difficult to balance their expenses with milk checks and other sources of income. Long hours and tedious labor have in all too many cases made both ends meet only at the expense of soil fertility, fences, buildings, etc. There is no denying the fact that farming as a business has shown less and less of the margin of profit. At such a time research work assumes, in the eyes of those interested in future agricultural welfare, an aspect of almost desperate importance. Up on the Experiment Station devolves the responsibility for determining what methods may best decrease the cost of production and so make possible a greater margin of profit. Improvements in seed and breeding stock, control of plant diseases and insect pests, tests...

Completely among the best pdf I actually have possibly read through. It is probably the most awesome pdf we have read. You won't really feel monotony at whenever you want of your time (that's what catalogs are for about in the event you ask me).
