

Women and Trauma: Report of the Federal Partners Committee on Women and Trauma: A Working Document. (Paperback)

By Substance Abuse and Ment Administration

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In the early 1990s, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) began a series of initiatives to raise awareness regarding the increasing numbers of women seeking services from public mental health and substance abuse programs who had experienced personal histories of violence and trauma, frequently beginning in childhood. Initially, attention focused on the pervasiveness of the problem, with experiences of violence leading to traumatic stress in more than 80-90 of women seeking services. Troubling manifestations of traumatic stress included physical health consequences and precipitous spiritual questioning as well as commonly labeled psychiatric and substance use disorders. For women survivors, addressing the full range of impacts of trauma often required involvement of the entire spectrum of public health services in ongoing trauma resolution and recovery efforts, typically involving the need for supported safe housing, supported education and employment assistance, family welfare supports, and possible contact with criminal justice and/or victim assistance programs. Due to the spiraling number of people impacted and the wide range of consequences, trauma is now believed to be a public health crisis. Existing providers lacked the capacity...
