Excerpt from Technical Education: Report of a Visit to the Schools of Massachusetts, and Opinions on the Subject of Technical Education, 1899 The question may be raised, How would the introduction of technical education be viewed by mechanics? There is an erroneous impression held by some persons that manual training schools are schools for teaching trades, and these are not in the interest of skilled mechanics. In the United States the laboring classes and the mechanics are, I was told, the most ardent friends of technical education. It is a mistake to infer that the masses need only a good elementary education. It is not to be wondered that municipalities are slow to move, and that apathy is found regarding technical education, so long as the value of intelligence in mechanical operations is not fully recognized.
