Payments for expenses of charities, hospitals, and corrections.--The column headings in this division of the table indicate clearly the nature of the payments, except those appearing in the two columns under the heading Other charities. These are chiefly for the care and training of certain classes of defectives and for temporary homes for women and girls. Payments for education.--Of the total payments for education, $223,242,114, or slightly more than 65 per cent, is shown under Apportionments. These amounts represent contributions from State revenues, derived from various sources, to counties, cities, and other minor civil divisions for the support of the public schools, and are based upon school population or average daily attendance. The amounts shown in the column All other, under the heading Schools, include such miscellaneous educational expenses as those for scholarships, vocational rehabilitation, and for Americanization work. Payments for recreation.--The payments for recreational facilities fostered by States constitute but a small proportion of expenses of general departments, the greatest amount being for maintenance of parks and reservations, reported by 22 States. Payments classified as miscellaneous.--In Division IX of Table 11 are shown (1) payments for pensions and gratuities; (2) payments for relief to special classes, which it is desirable to present together even though a part of them might readily be assigned to other divisions of the table; (3) payments for objects which...
