When we speak of a text, we speak of Any passage, spoken or written, of whatever length, that forms a unified whole. The question that is put first is what is a text and what is not, what are the features that distinguish text from a collection of unrelated sentences. Halliday points out that every text has a texture. A text derives this texture from the fact that it functions as a unity with respect to its environment. There are certain linguistic features that contribute to textual unity. Apart from other concepts this fact is described by the concept of cohesion. The concept of cohesion is a semantic one; it refers to relations of meaning that exist within the text, and that define it as a text. Cohesion occurs where...
