Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . This book usually ship within 10-15 business days and we will endeavor to dispatch orders quicker than this where possible. Brand New Book. Excerpt from The Agromeck, 1929, Vol. 27 The School of Engineering, therefore. Has incorporated into its curricula numerous subjects of general educational value from other schools of the college. Courses are required in English, Economics, Modern Languages. Etc. There is. Of course. Thorough training in Mathematics. Both pure and applied. The objective of the School is to prepare young men for success in their chosen profession as well as for leadership in all matters of public interest. The School of Engineering is largely and more completely equipped and teaches more students than the combined engineering departments of all other institutions of the State. Our students live and work in an engineering atmosphere and their every daily association is helpful, in that it keeps the prospective engineer in constant touch with those things that pertain to his work. In a word, State College is the center from which go out most of the men trained to supply the engineering industries of the State. The location of the college is especially favorable for the study of engineering. Besides being the capital and having the several State Departments, including the State Highway Commission, the State Board of Health, and other important State institutions. Raleigh is a rapidly growing city marked by unusual developments in residential, commercial and municipal construction which afford excellent opportunities for observation and study. Raleigh is also the center from which electrical power is distributed to a large section of the State. A large transformer sub-station adjoins the campus from which high tension lines carry electrical power in every direction. Many large hydro-electric and steam-electric...
