All this has led to a revolution in the subject of repertory. This is an excellent attempt to acquaint students and professionals not only with classical and with new repertories but with Homeopathic software as well. The book provides key features and guidelines for using all the available repertories from "Therapeutic Pocket Book", "Kent's Repertory" to "Complete Repertory" and the "Encyclopedia Homeopathica" program of RADAR software. The main attraction of this book is a topic which corrects and standardises abbreviations of 108 drugs used in BBCR.
