Excerpt from Supplement No. 1 to Edition B of the Macdonald Genealogy: Containing Records of the Descendants of Jesse Peter, One of the Pioneer Settlers Near Mackville, Washington County, Kentucky When the elaborate diary Of Bishop Asbury shall have been published and well edited, and when the various other church records of the missionary days of Methodism in America shall have been brought within reach of the general reader, it may be possible for us to know more about the part our ancestors bore in the early labors of the church. That their whole time was given up to religious work, we have always under stood; but amongst so large a number of earnest, modest toilers, it is not strange that we Should fail to have better means of tracing them. As the in?uence of the new light began to spread, these brothers were chosen to lead the vanguard of the mission ranks. On, on they pushed, up the James River into the mountain fast nesses of the Alleghanies, and over into what was then the limit of civilization, where, weighed down by years, they rested just a little while and then, one after the other, many tho usand miles from home, strangers in a strange land, they ended their long and useful lives: William earlier, but Richard and his wife each in their hundredth year. God bless the memory of such noble examples of Chris tian sacrifice! And, as Mr. Strickland says, we may dwell here a moment to remark, that local preachers have been of eminent service to the Methodist Church, both in Europe and America. They proved valuable assistants to Wesley, and went everywhere, sharing his labors and reproaches in...
