

The Orphan Trains: Placing Out in America

By Marilyn Irvin Holt

Bison Books. Paperback. Condition: New. 264 pages. From 1850 to 1930 America witnessed a unique emigration and resettlement of at least 200,000 children and several thousand adults, primarily from the East Coast to the West. This placing out, an attempt to find homes for the urban poor, was best known by the orphan trains that carried the children. Holt carefully analyzes the system, initially instituted by the New York Childrens Aid Society in 1853, tracking its imitators as well as the reasons for its creation and demise. She captures the childrens perspective with the judicious use of oral histories, institutional records, and newspaper accounts. This well-written volume sheds new light on the multifaceted experience of childrens immigration, changing concepts of welfare, and Western expansion. It is good, scholarly social history - Library Journal. Soon there will be no memories of the little companies, as they were called, of children setting out with an adult leader for a new life. This little book is kind of a preservation movement, and a contribution to our understanding of how the West was won - David Shribman, Wall Street Journal. As a portrait of the times charitable networks, The Orphan Trains succeeds.
