In literature, a caricature is a description of a person using exaggeration of some characteristics and oversimplification of others. Caricatures can be insulting or complimentary and can serve a political purpose or be drawn solely for entertainment. Caricatures of politicians are commonly used in editorial cartoons, while caricatures of movie stars are often found in entertainment magazines. The term is derived from the Italian caricareto charge or load. An early definition occurs in the English doctor Thomas Brownes Christian Morals, published posthumously in 1716. Expose not thy self by four-footed manners unto monstrous draughts, and Caricatura representations. When Mens faces are drawn with resemblance to some other Animals, the Italians call it, to be drawn in Caricatura. Thus, the word caricature essentially means a loaded portrait. According to School of Visual Arts caricature instructor Sam Viviano, the term...
