

A Mathematician Reads the Newspaper: Making Sense of the Numbers in the Headlines (Paperback)

By John Allen Paulos

Penguin Books Ltd, United Kingdom, 1996. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. From crime figures to health scares, election polls to stock market forecasts, numbers make the news all the time. But are they accurate? John Allen Paulos, travels through the pages of an average newspaper, revealing how mathematics is at the heart of the articles we read every day - even horoscopes and the sports pages - and how often they mislead us. By understanding simple concepts such as probability, chaos theory and game theory, you ll be able to see through faulty statistics, stock market forecacters and conspiracy theorists - and make the figures truly add up.
