Excerpt from Second Report on State Highway Construction: For the Period From January 1, 1906, to January 1, 1908; Part 1 Since the passage of the so-called Shoemaker Law, the counties of the State, which before its enactment had attempted some permanent improvement annually and had called on this office for advice and assistance, have devoted their annual improvement funds to work under the Shoemaker Law, realizing that it was possible to obtain even better results from this source than they could formerly. By so doing, they have been able to secure greater assistance from this office in the way of more detailed plans and more constant supervision of the work, and it has also been possible for them to secure far more extensive improvement for the same amount of money, by the practical doubling of the funds available under the provisions of the State Aid Act. Consequently, little assistance of the character heretofore rendered has been asked for by the counties, although several of the towns of the State have applied for, and received, such assistance from this office. Numerous tests...
