

Capital Asset Management: Tools and Strategies for Decision Making, Conference Proceedings

By Federal Facilities Council Technical Report No. 143, Federal Facilities Council, National Academy of Sciences

National Academies Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Capital Asset Management: Tools and Strategies for Decision Making, Conference Proceedings, Federal Facilities Council Technical Report No. 143, Federal Facilities Council, National Academy of Sciences, Federally owned capital assets include some 500,000 buildings and similar facilities worldwide acquired during 200 years of government operations. Government facilities are used to defend the national interest; conduct foreign policy; house historic, cultural and educational artifacts; pursue research; and provide services to the American public. These buildings and structures project an image of American government at home and abroad, contribute to the architectural and socioeconomic fabric of their communities, and support the organizational and individual performance of federal employees conducting the business of government. Federal facilities embody significant investments and resources and therefore constitute a portfolio of public assets. At least 30 separate agencies manage these facilities. As stewards of this public investment, federal facilities program managers face a number of challenges. In the 1990s Congress and the Executive Branch took a number of initiatives to improve capital asset decision making in the federal government. These include enacting the Government Performance and Results Act of 1993, the Federal Acquisition Streamlining Act of 1994, the...
