Excerpt: .in Scott s Fair Maid of Perth; Dysart, where a great battle was fought between the Danes and Scots, near which is Dysart House, occupying the site of Dysart Castle, the stronghold of Macduff; the lang toon of Kirkcaldy, so called from its street, four miles in length (the ruined fortress of Balwearie, in the neighbourhood, was the seat of Michael Scott, the Magician), and the harbour of Burntisland, whence the railway passengers are carried across the Forth to Granton, passing the island of Inchkeith, which was formerly used as an hospital where all cases of contagious diseases were removed, so as to avoid spreading the infection. Granton Pier was erected by the Duke of Buccleuch, at a cost of 80,000. At Canonmills the train enters a tunnel, from which it emerges at the Princes Street Station, Edinburgh. The tourist may, if he...

Reviews

Here is the finest publication we have read right up until now. It is actually written in easy words instead of difficult to understand. Its been written in a remarkably easy way in fact it is only right after i finished reading this book in which basically changed me, modify the way i really believe.

-- Prof. Vanessa Smitham V

The book is fantastic and great. This is for anyone who statte there was not a worthy of reading. I found out this publication from my i and dad advised this pdf to learn.
