Graduated from Purdue, thrilling a large audience by his burning words to the effect that Rome was not built in twenty-four hours. Attended also the National Republican Convention in 1908. Disgusted by the fickleness of politics he abandoned his ambition to be a postmaster and continued writing. At the age of 3 he puzzled the family by his manipulation of his alphabet blocks. Later in life he exemplified the proverb, that as the twig is bent the tree is inclined by restoring the alphabet to its rightful position in American letters. His ideals arc AEsop and Cadmus. Has written and published many hooks, which have all been sold. Has written many musical comedies and plain comedies which have all been played. Many of them have not yet played out. Is a bachelor at the time of going to press. Handsome as a Greek god, but without the marble heart characterizing same. Fond of golf, mountain climbing, quoits, sailing, checkers and welsh rarebits....
