Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | Process optimization, chemical profile and antioxidant activity of obtained extracts | Coriander seeds have been used in traditional medicine for the treatment of various ailments. Taking into account that operational conditions may influence the chemical composition, thus optimization of supercritical extraction was performed. Influences of three different extraction parameters were explored while optimization of the process was performed by using Box-Behnken experimental design (BBD) in combination with response surface methodology (RSM). Furthermore,...
