ALL DOLLED UP: A STUDENT GETS FEM - AN LGBT ROMANCE (PAPERBACK)

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . A gender-bending mathematician? A student working on a PhD in mathematics takes a suggestion from a female psychiatrist friend that he'd present himself better as a girl than a boy. He cross-dresses as a woman as precisely and accurately as a mathematician would. In his world of black and white, where equations are solvable and yield a result, he attempts to make sense of the unexpected variables this crossdressing transformation creates. Maybe he can arrive at an algorithm for it and find answers to what the future will be for him. Will his newfound sensuality, persona, more intimate relationship with his psychiatrist friend, new interest in men, increased desires, and more exciting and fulfilling relationships, lead to fulfillment that he can predict, or will it lead to confusion and a future he never would have imagined? Should he simplify his life's equation by once again presenting as his male gender, or continue on to discover if the confusion is resolved in his new, feminized, cross-dressing, gender-bending self? Enter the world of a cross-dressed and feminized male and see if his equation can be solved and the future predicted for the new gurl in this short-read, new, adult, LGBT, hot and steamy transgender romance.
