Please note that the content of this book primarily consists of articles available from Wikipedia or other free sources online. John Southworth (born on April 22, 1972) is an English-Canadian singer-songwriter. His style encompasses a range of popular song genres, from oldies-radio to folk, 80 s pop to cabaret. New York Press wrote that his capacity for a wide range of antiquated styles seems to have emerged out of a time vacuum and described him as delightfully eccentric. Rich Terfy of CBC Radio 2 said, John is to music what Guy Maddin is to film. John Southworth was born in Cuckfield, West Sussex, England. He is the son of U.K pop producer/songwriter Peter Shelley, who wrote and produced numerous U.K/European hits for Alvin Stardust and as a solo artist in the seventies. At age eight, he moved with his family to Vancouver, Canada, and then a few years later to Toronto.
