TELEMEDICINE IN ACUTE STROKE CARE

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Südwestdeutscher Verlag für Hochschulschriften | the TESSA Model | Stroke is the third largest cause of death after cardiovascular diseases and cancer and is a major factor of permanent disability in most industrial countries. Disparities exist in access to healthcare services due to geographical barriers and limited resources. Rural locations often lack the resources for adequate stroke management. The idea of telestroke is to transfer knowledge and expertise of acute stroke management into areas with limited neurological..
