Natasha White was born raised in Bedford Stuyvesant of Brooklyn, N.Y. in a Projects by the name of Eleanor Roosevelt, where she resided for twenty-two years. Being raised in a part of Brooklyn called Do or Die -Bed Stuy., Natasha had seen it all in the rough streets of Brooklyn. However, being raised by her Grandmother, the Late Willie Mae Cato, Natasha was introduced to another part of life. The Late Mother Cato of Bright Light Church of God in Christ in Brooklyn, N.Y. along with her Pastor, the Late Pastor George Bryant, gave Natasha the upbringing in the church from a babe. No matter what, nothing would stop Mother Cato from bringing her Grandchildren to church. Rain, sleet or snow they were there. Mid-week Service Sunday after Sunday. Later in Natasha s Teen age years, she backslid by leaving the church and found herself back into the world doing everything under the sun. At the age of 18, Natasha gave birth to her first son out of four boys, Nashawn Cato. Still under her grandmother s care, Mother Cato never gave up...
