Forgotten Books, 2018. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Things Indian: Being Discursive Notes on Various Subjects Connected With India India forms a continent rather than a country. The Panjabi, for instance, differs as much in physique, character, language, and traditions from the Madras, as the Scotchman from the Neapolitan. Hence, when a writer attempts to deal with subjects which concern the Empire as a whole, the difficulty of the task becomes apparent. A statement which may be true as regards Northern India may in no sense apply to the land or races of the South. For matters, therefore, which lie beyond my own experience, confined as it was to the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, I have been obliged to rely on the best available authorities. A bibliography of this literature will be found prefixed to the new edition of Hobson-Jobson. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
