Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Higher Education in Indiana, Vol. 10 The people who expect to be ignorant and free in a stats of civilization expect what never was and never can be. - Thomas Jefferson. Popular government without popular education is but a prologue to a farce or to a tragedy, or to both. - James Madison. In our country and in our time no man is worthy the honored name of statesman who does not include the highest practicable education of the people in all his plans of administration. He may have eloquence, he may have knowledge of all history, diplomacy, jurisprudence; and by these he might claim in other countries the elevated rank of a statesman; but unless he speaks, plans, labors at all times and in all places for the culture and edification of the whole people, he is not, he can not be an American statesman. - Horace Mann. If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble to the dust; but if we work upon immortal minds; if we imbue them with high principles, with just fear of God and love of their fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something which no time can efface, but which will brighten and brighten to all eternity. - Anon. The State - that is every man in the State - is helped by everything that makes the majority wiser, better, or more enlightened. The State stands pledged, through its common schools, its high schools, and its State universities, to give to each one of its boys - and in the West its...
