Excerpt from The South African Mining Journal, Vol. 25: Part II., May 13, 1916 The announcement of a. New Union Loan to be placed in this country adds point and interest to the discussion of the Far East Rand, provoked by the publication of Mr. Liotze s report. Early in the week news came from Capetown that, whatever the recommendations of the Select Committee might be, the Government would hardly be able to find time to give them legislative effect during this session. As the week wore on, however, evidence began to point in the opposite direction. The government Mining Engineer, for the second time since the Committee began its sittings, was summoned to Capetown, and the belief is growing that his visit is connected with the introduction of an amendment to the Gold Law. This supposition is supported by the news of the new Union issue, since it is inconceivable that the Government should on the one hand further pledge the credit of the Union, and, on the other, refuse to take the first and most obvious step to strengthen that credit by removing the legislative obstacles against, and putting things in train for, the early development of its greatest potential asset - the Far East Rand. Other aspects of Mr. Kotze s report are dealt with elsewhere in this issue. Here our purpose is merely to emphasise its features of courage, clear ness and commonsense. This is best proved by the recep tion it has had from the cranks, the State Socialists, and the whole yelping chorus of destructive critics whose hatred of all progress invariably takes the malignant form of sowing rancour and suspicion. These people pretend to see all sorts...
