

The Pukara of Quito An Indigenous Self-Determination Case Study English and Spanish Edition

By Ryan Seelau

Bauu Institute. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 48 pages. Dimensions: 9.2in. x 6.1in. x 0.1in. The Pukara of Quito: An Indigenous Self-Determination Case Study tells the story of the Indigenous Atacameo Community of Quito and their efforts to regain control over an ancient and impressive piece of cultural property, the Pukara of Quito—a large stone fortress located in the Atacama Desert of Chile. The Atacameo Community of Quito has existed in essentially the same region of Chile for thousands of years, but after European contact, and particularly after tourism began near the end of the 20th century, their world changed dramatically. The Community began to see its cultural property vandalized and destroyed, and they knew that if they stood by and did nothing, much of what they held dear would be destroyed. Fortunately, the Atacameo Community of Quito took action. Exercising their rights to self-determination, the community found ways to regain some control over their traditional lands and property. Adopting a strategy whereby the Community exercised their rights little by little, they became one of the very first Indigenous communities in Chile to co-manage their own ancestral property. In the process, the Community has restored the Pukara of Quito, expanded its...
