Excerpt from A Descriptive Catalogue of Thirty-Six Pictures: Painted by George Morland, Dedicated With Permission to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales The general air of this picture bears a striking resemblance to some of the tableaux. Of T eniers, but the figures with which it is peopled, are neither Dutch Fishermen, nor Flemish Boors they, are, in every characteristic mark, English. The eager attention of a girl listening to three Tars, who, while drinking their grog a-bore, recite their hair breath jfcapes, is happily represented and the figure, reclined in a corner, tired of wars alarms, nursing a gin-keg, and fully enjoying himself with his favourite liquor, is in an attitude singularly easy and natural. There is peculiar propriety in placing these bulwarks of Britain at the sign of the Mortar.6) About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
