Testing the Waters LGBT People in the Europe Eurasia Region

By United States Agency For International Development

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 94 pages. Dimensions: 11.0in. x 8.5in. x 0.2in. As public awareness of sexual orientation and gender identity increases in the E and E region, so does the expression of hostility towards lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) people in general society. Despite some recent breakthroughs, LGBT persons regularly meet with a lack of support or outright condemnation from families and communities, political and religious leaders, law enforcement, service providers (e. g. , in health and education), and employers. This report, originally published in November 2013, discusses the principal issues pertaining to LGBT populations in the Europe and Eurasian (E and E) region, including: (a) a clarification of relevant terms; (b) the experiences and ability of LGBT persons to live authentic lives free from violence and discrimination; (c) public attitudes toward LGBT people; (d) discrimination and human rights violations; (e) international and national protection vehicles and their implementation; (f) LGBT non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and allies active in the region; and (g) recommendations for engaging LGBT people and addressing the needs of LGBT individuals and NGOS through USAID programming and indicators that can be used to measure success.
