PRESIDENT WILLIAM UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS MEMORIAL CONVOCATION, THE ARMORY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1901 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from President William University of Illinois Memorial Convocation, the Armory, September 19, 1901 For the third time in the brief period of a generation the President has been wounded to the death by assassination. In that period no President has died in office from natural causes. Three of the seven men who, since 1860, have been carried to the head of the purest democracy in the world by the free voice of the people thereof, have met violent deaths by foul and murderous hands. And the dark deed has, in each case, been as unprovoked as foul, as senseless as murderous. Each time the blow has fallen upon a plain man, of generous impulses and gentle ways, who had given no personal offense or provocation. Each blow has caused the deepest sorrow and stirred the noblest emotions in every part m. The land. In each case the stupid and brutal hand which moved to destroy has served to build up, for as the millions have gathered once and again, and yet again, at the bier of their Chief Magistrate to tell the story of their common grief, they have looked upon the ?ag and recalled what it has cost and what it signifies; they have again, and yet again, invoked the help of the Father of All and dedicated themselves anew to the task of making the Government of the people yet more secure. Once again the Nation stands in sorrow and humiliation at the portals of the grave of a President struck down with savage cunning and deliberate plan at the very center of the world s highest civilization. It is not strange that the shock, for the moment, stunned the...
