*A brand new e book with a brand new standpoint. I have read through and that i am certain that i am going to gonna go through again once more in the future. Its been developed in an remarkably simple way in fact it is merely right after i finished reading through this book in which basically modified me, modify the way in my opinion.

Stella Ive been in and out of hospitals for the past ten months. Ive had half my liver removed and even though this time the doctors are very optimistic that theyve removed all of the tumours, they cant be sure. In another three months they want me here again for a check up. Right now I feel better than Ive ever felt. I know the damn thing is gone, at least for the moment. Despite that, I cant make any plans for the future, not yet. I need to go somewhere where nobody knows me, where I can relax and maybe even forget about all this. Where I can meet people who dont think of me as the girl who lost her father and her brother in a car accident, and who has cancer. I want to have fun, even if its for a couple of months. When Stella decides to visit her estranged cousin Lisa in Genoa, she has no idea Italy will give her a new reason to live. Max Her gaze locked on a scene so beautiful, the picturesque beach paled in comparison. A lifeguard emerged from the water, his orange trunks stuck to his legs and water dripping all over him. He shook his head to get rid of some of the water in his hair and Stella felt as if everything started developing in slow motion tiny drops of water slid from his neck down his broad chest and muscular arms, along a weaving tattoo on his right shoulder, and continued downwards towards his chest and washboard stomach, finally getting lost in the waistband of his trunks. A part of another tattoo peeked...
