

Henry Fielding - From This World to the Next: I Am Content; That Is a Blessing Greater Than Riches; And He to Whom That Is Given Need Ask No More. (Paperback)

By Henry Fielding

Horse s Mouth, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Henry Fielding was born at Sharpham in Somerset on April 22nd, 1707. His most famous and well loved work is Tom Jones . A classic. Fielding s history is certainly colourful and rich in texture. A novelist and playwright, he was not averse to causing controversy or even scandal but he was also a magistrate and helped to establish the Police force. He was educated at Eton College, where he established a lifelong friendship with William Pitt the Elder. After a few romantic problems he journeyed to London to establish a literary career. By 1728 he was off to Leiden to study classics and law. Funds did not last too long and he was forced to return to London and to begin writing for the theatre. Much of his work was witheringly critical of Sir Robert Walpole s government. His satires were always on the edge and the Establishment was not amused. The Theatrical Licensing Act of 1737 seems to have Fielding s activities as one of its targets. Once the Act passed, political satire on the stage was almost impossible. Fielding retired...
