Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Book of Psalms: With the Words Printed for Expressive Singing and Accompanied by the Tunes Contained in the Scottish Psalmody Psalmody holds a position distinct from the other departments of public worship. It is the utterance of the people as distinguished from the utterance of the minister; and just as high attainment in the art of delivery is sought after by the former, so must the latter seek to cultivate that power of utterance for which the language of music has been given to them. The peculiar power of Psalmody, as a social religious exercise, consists in its being conducted through a medium which enables many, with one heart and one voice, to glorify God; but in producing this unity of design, it must be remembered that the worshippers are each dependent one upon another, -each must feel that he sings to edify others, and expects on his own part assistance from his fellow-worshippers. The delivery must be emotional and sympathetic emotional, by each worshipper feeling what is sung sympathetic, by each showing to others, in the mode of utterance, that it is felt for except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? To carry out this view of the true end and aim of Psalmody this work has been compiled. It is not possible by any mechanical contrivance to implant devotional feeling in the heart, but it is possible to excite or stimulate it; and more especially, taking advantage of its collective capacity, each dependent upon another, important assistance may be derived from a contrivance even mechanical in its nature, which is suggestive and explanatory in its...
