LAP Lambert Academic Publishing Jul 2012, 2012. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 220x150x6 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - The quest for this book is to provide an understanding of Community Adult Education Practices in rural communities in Zambia. Although this study was conducted in Chongwe District, the findings are applicable to other rural communities in the country. There is no doubt that adult education is about human resource development which ultimately translate into national development. It is a truism that national development cannot be attained with an illiterate population. Therefore, education being a human right must be provided to the masses for the purpose of attaining national development. Apparently in Zambia these masses are concentrated in rural areas and are often times denied access to social services such as education. Poverty and illiteracy are a common phenomenon among them. The ability to graduate from this quagmire of poverty, illiteracy and underdevelopment depends on the application of the most effective and appropriate educational tool, which community adult education is. This book exposes you to the forms of community adult education practices and effective ways of implementing them in rural areas in order to attain sustainable rural development. 96 pp. Englisch.
